With 120 curious minds listening intently, the atmosphere was energetic and genuinely inspiring. By the end, everyone walked out a little wiser, a little prouder, and definitely more strategic. JUGAAD- STUDENT INNOVATION | 20 & 27 NOV 2025.

JUGAAD was not just about reusing the waste-it recycled the way we perceive. Students used their creative approach and transformed ordinary stuff into functional products. The competition witnessed that the nominal stuff that we use in our day-to-day life, like bottles, cardboard, fabrics, and scrap metal, if used with acumen and tactics, can effectively prove that one does not necessarily need expensive resources to acquire efficient products. (just brilliant imagination and Fevicol!). Jugaad was a team-based competition conducted in two rounds. In the first round, the teams showcased their creative models, and those who were shortlisted entered the final round. Thus, the most innovative team with the master idea was declared as the conqueror.

The competition promoted environmental responsibility, collaborative work, and hands-on problem solving. Judges assessed each model for its creativity and frugal engineering skills rooted in the “do more with less” mindset. Through this experience, students imbibed design thinking as a core approach to innovation at IGSB!
